

Black Weekender's Guide

Montréal Edition

Introduction

Airbnb's Black employee resource group, known as Black@, has collected some of the most celebrated Black-owned, operated, and managed businesses recommended by our Montréal host community to proudly feature in the Black Weekender's Guide: Montréal Edition.

By sharing these local cafés, restaurants, and shops, our goal is to help visitors and locals alike experience areas beyond the tourist hotspots. In a region with as much history and culture as Montréal, the Black Weekender's Guide provides just a snapshot of some of the businesses to start exploring. We hope you use this guide to discover (or rediscover) the inspiring and broad spectrum of Black-owned businesses across Montréal.

Montréal by the numbers

By bringing visitors to neighborhoods that have not traditionally benefited from the region's tourism industry, home sharing is creating economic opportunity for families and supporting small businesses in every corner of Montréal.

About Airbnb

Airbnb is a community based on connection and belonging—a community that was born in 2008 when two hosts welcomed three guests to their San Francisco home, and has since grown to 4 million hosts who have welcomed over 800 million guest arrivals to about 100,000 cities in almost every country and region across the globe. Hosts on Airbnb are everyday people who share their worlds to provide guests with the feeling of connection and being at home. At Airbnb, we believe that hosts, guests and the communities where we operate are all stakeholders we have a responsibility to serve, and that by serving them alongside our employees and investors, we will build an enduringly successful company.
